Press Release

Philly GiveCamp 2015 Solves 30 Nonprofits' Technical Needs

Philadelphia, PA, December 23, 2014 – Philly GiveCamp, a weekend-long event where technologists donate their time to create custom software for nonprofit organizations, will take place from Friday, January 16th through Sunday, January 18th, 2015 at Microsoft's office in Malvern, PA. 120 Volunteer positions are available to help 30 nonprofit organizations accomplish technical projects that would not have otherwise been possible. Philly GiveCamp has been occurring annually since 2010.

This weekend-long charity hack-a-thon for nonprofits will help organizations that include: Asia Adams Save OUR Children Foundation, Cambodian Association of Greater Philadelphia, Chester County Improvement Project, Cumberland Cape Atlantic YMCA, Family Support Services, Hendricks House, Inter-Faith Housing Alliance, KenCrest, National Nursing Centers Consortium, Operation Jack Autism Foundation, PathStone Corporation, Potential Inc, Prince Hall Alumni Foundation, Project HOPE and many more! Projects include website development, application development, Salesforce.com development and database administration to meet critical nonprofit needs.

Last year, 60 Philly GiveCamp volunteers helped over 27 Greater Philadelphia-Area nonprofit organizations further their missions by saving them over $135,000 in technology resource costs. Women of War Ministries has participated with Philly GiveCamp for two years in a row. Executive Director Claudette Miles said "This was our second year participating in the program and it has been wonderful. Our non profit works on a shoe-string so we could not afford the kind of service that Philly GiveCamp provided. Also, we could never repay the volunteers for their phenomenal dedication Thank you so very much and yes we would recommend others to the program."
